

Robot-run Restaurants in LA

Current trends and tendencies

Restaurants are the most popular type.

Fast food is on the second place.

Most of the establishments are chains.

Chain to nonchain establishments ratio

Chains by type

❖ Only around 25% of bars and restaurants belong to chains.

❖ All the bakeries in LA belong to chains.

Size categories

Chains:

- ❖ Small (1-5 est.)
- ❖ Medium (6-15 est.)
- ❖ Large (16 and more est.)

Establishments:

- ❖ Small (1-50 seats)
- ❖ Medium (51-150 seats)
- ❖ Large (150 seats and more)

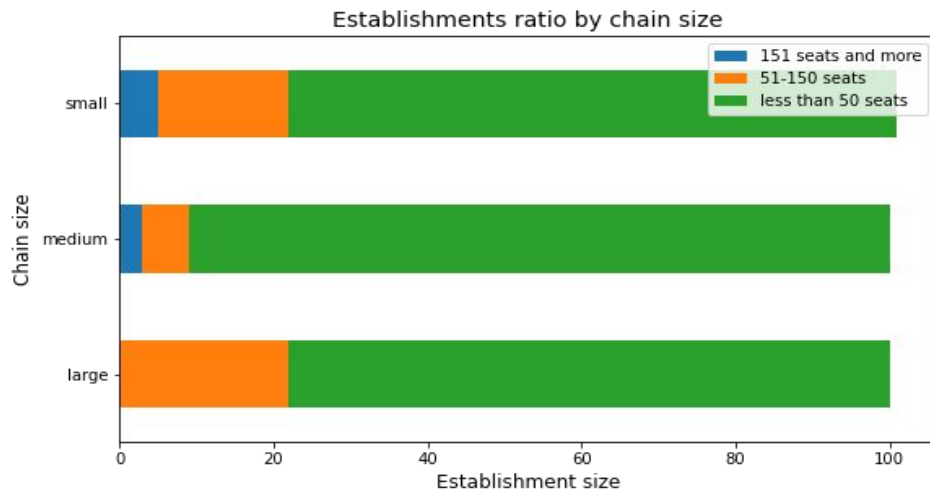

- Est. - establishment

Chain establishments: size ratios

- ❖ 1993 chain establishments in LA
- ❖ 1526 of them are small establishments, belonging to the small chains

chain_size	large	medium	small establishment_size
large	0.0	1.0	89.0
medium	4.0	2.0	326.0
small	14.0	31.0	1526.0

- ❖ In all types of chains small establishments are most common.

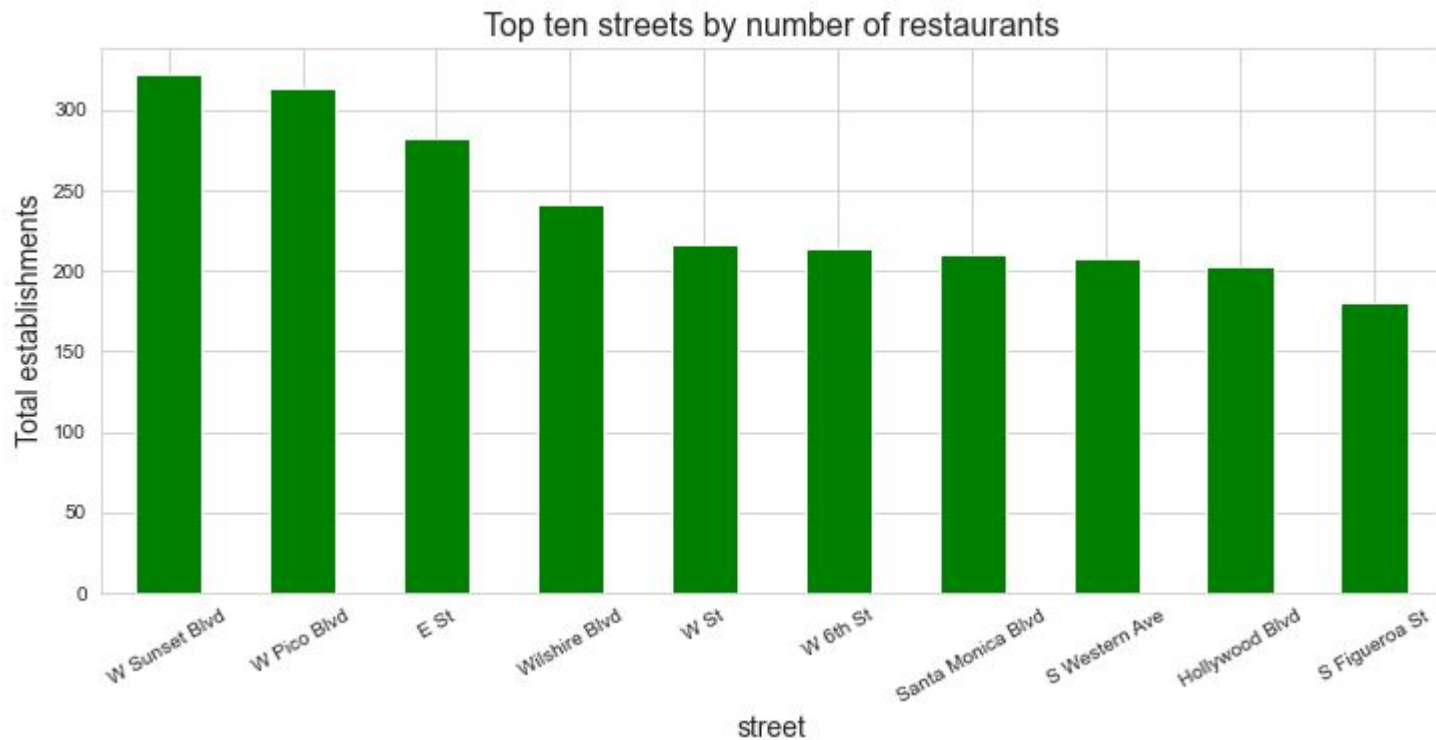

Typical size by establishment type

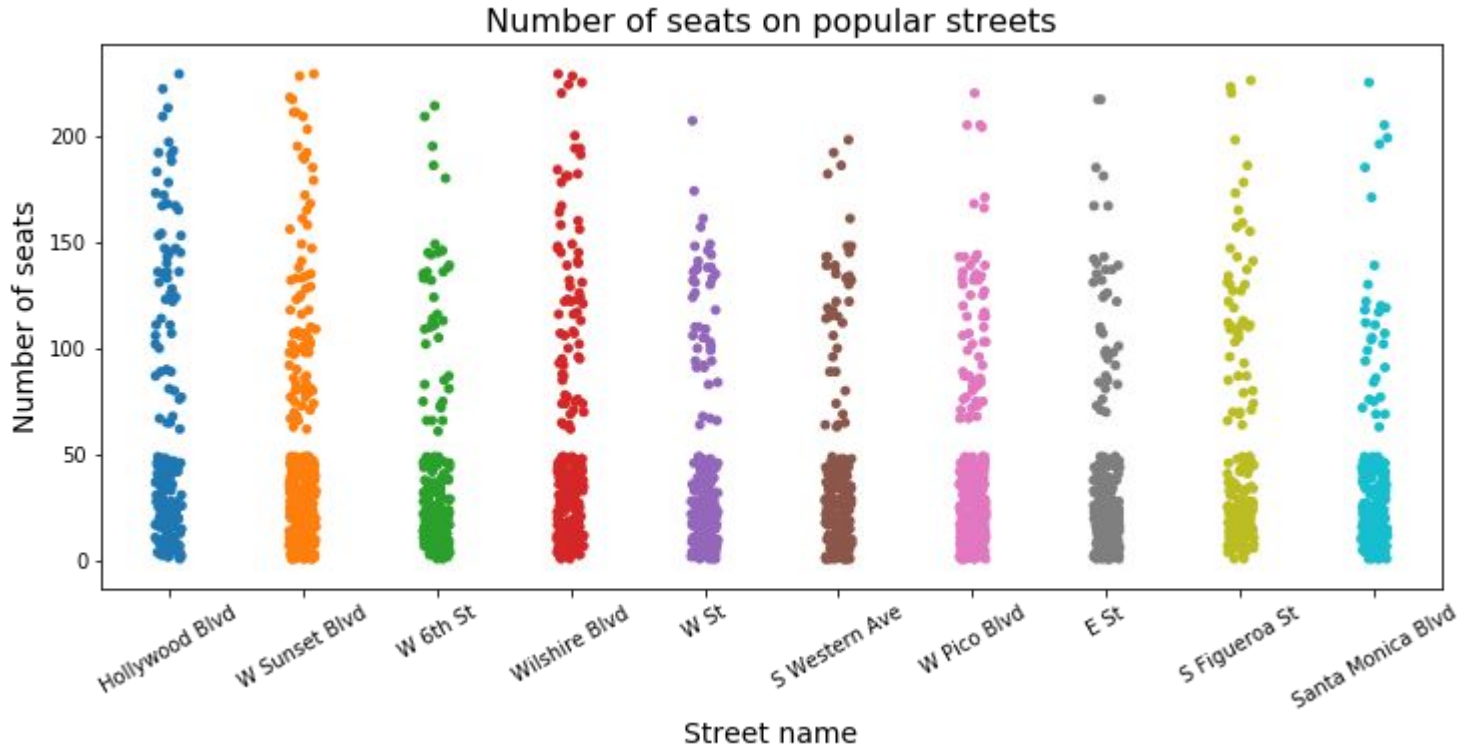

- ❖ Restaurants and bars: average of 45-50 seats
- ❖ Bakeries and cafes: average of 20-25 seats.
- ❖ Chain fast foods are significantly larger than non-chain.

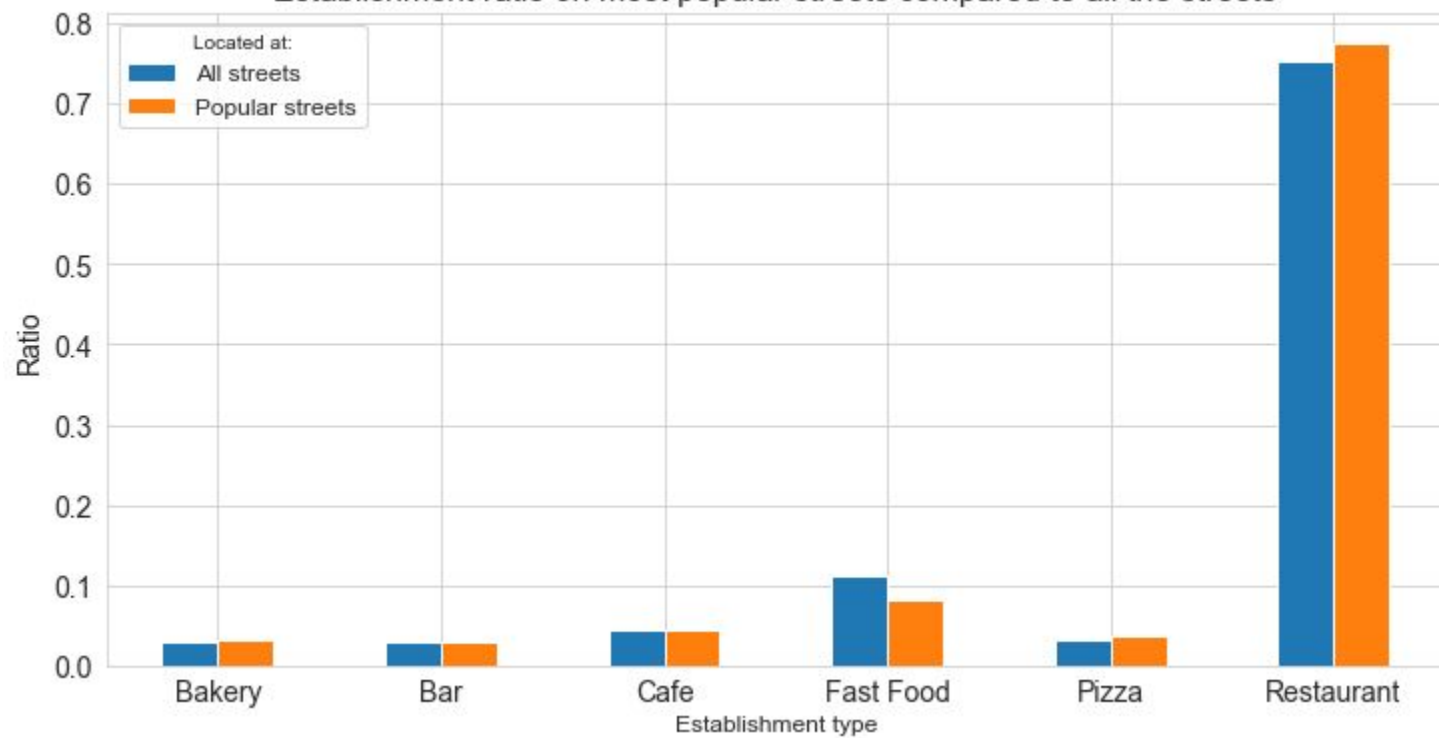

Most popular streets

Average number of seats per establishment on popular streets:

Establishment ratio on most popular streets compared to all the streets

Conclusion

Fast-food or restaurant?

- ❖ Small non-chain restaurants are the most common
 - ❖ There are slightly more restaurants on popular streets than overall in the city
 - ❖ Small chain fast foods take the second place
 - ❖ Fast-food ratio is higher in overall city
-